Shardul Joshi

Student

About me

Hey there! I'm someone who finds beauty in both numbers and code, delving deep into the world of mathematics and computer science. When I'm not solving problems, you'll find me on the field, giving my all in every game. However, I am also a good listener who loves to vibe along with soft music and art, letting creativity take over. No matter what I am doing, I persist until the end – I never back down until I've given my absolute best!
